

Dr. Irving Lorge

New York, Jan. 23 (AP)—Dr. Irving Lorge, 55, an authority on psychological testing, died of a heart attack here today. Dr. Lorge was professor of education and executive officer of the institute of psychological research at teachers college, Columbia university.